Peace Corps Needs More Volunteers

Antioch area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 19, at Chicago 33-10 Rm. 1154, U.S. Customs House, 610 S. Canal St.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an Application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test.

Antioch Students Plan On College

Seventy-one per cent of Antioch Community High School's 1969 Graduating class are planning to continue their education in one form or another.

Forty-three per cent are planning to attend a 4 year college and an additional 12 per cent will attend a 2 year college. A further 16 per cent will attend trade or vocational schools.

The remainder of the class is planning to become employed or go into the armed forces with seven per cent of the class planning the latter.

Rebates Will Be Paid

A total of about $32.5 million collected by the State of Illinois under the Service Occupation, Service Use, and Municipal and County Service Occupation tax acts from August, 1967, through March, 1968, will be distributed to those who actually paid the taxes.

These acts have been declared unconstitutional, and the American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago has been designated by the Circuit Court as trustee to receive and process claims for tax refunds in a four-month statewide campaign.

Spokesmen for the bank said that it is impossible to predict how many individuals will file claims for refunds. They added that the procedure adopted for the filing of claims makes it as easy as possible for people entitled to a refund to file claims.

The tax that is being refunded was paid to the state by four kinds of service businesses: tool and die makers, graphic arts suppliers, repairmen, and druggists. Two classes of people can make claims for refunds. The customers of any of the four categories of businesses can file if they were charged the tax by the servicemen. The servicemen may file if they did not pass the tax on to their customers but paid it themselves.

The claim filing period will be (Continued on page three)

Apartment Zoning Is Denied

The Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals has voted unanimously to turn down a request for seven 10-unit apartment structures at 630 North Ave., Antioch.

The apartment units were sought by Walter F. Cejner and Raymond B. Hambel, Jr. More than 25 persons attended the meeting—which was orderly—at the Village Hall Monday night to voice their objections to the structures.

The main objection was that the area, except for one apartment building, is all single-family residences.

The change sought was from R-4 two-family dwellings to R-5, multiple family dwellings. The recommendation will be given to the village board at its meeting next Monday night.

Several bills which passed both houses of the Illinois General Assembly will have far reaching effects on residents and local government, if signed into law by the governor.

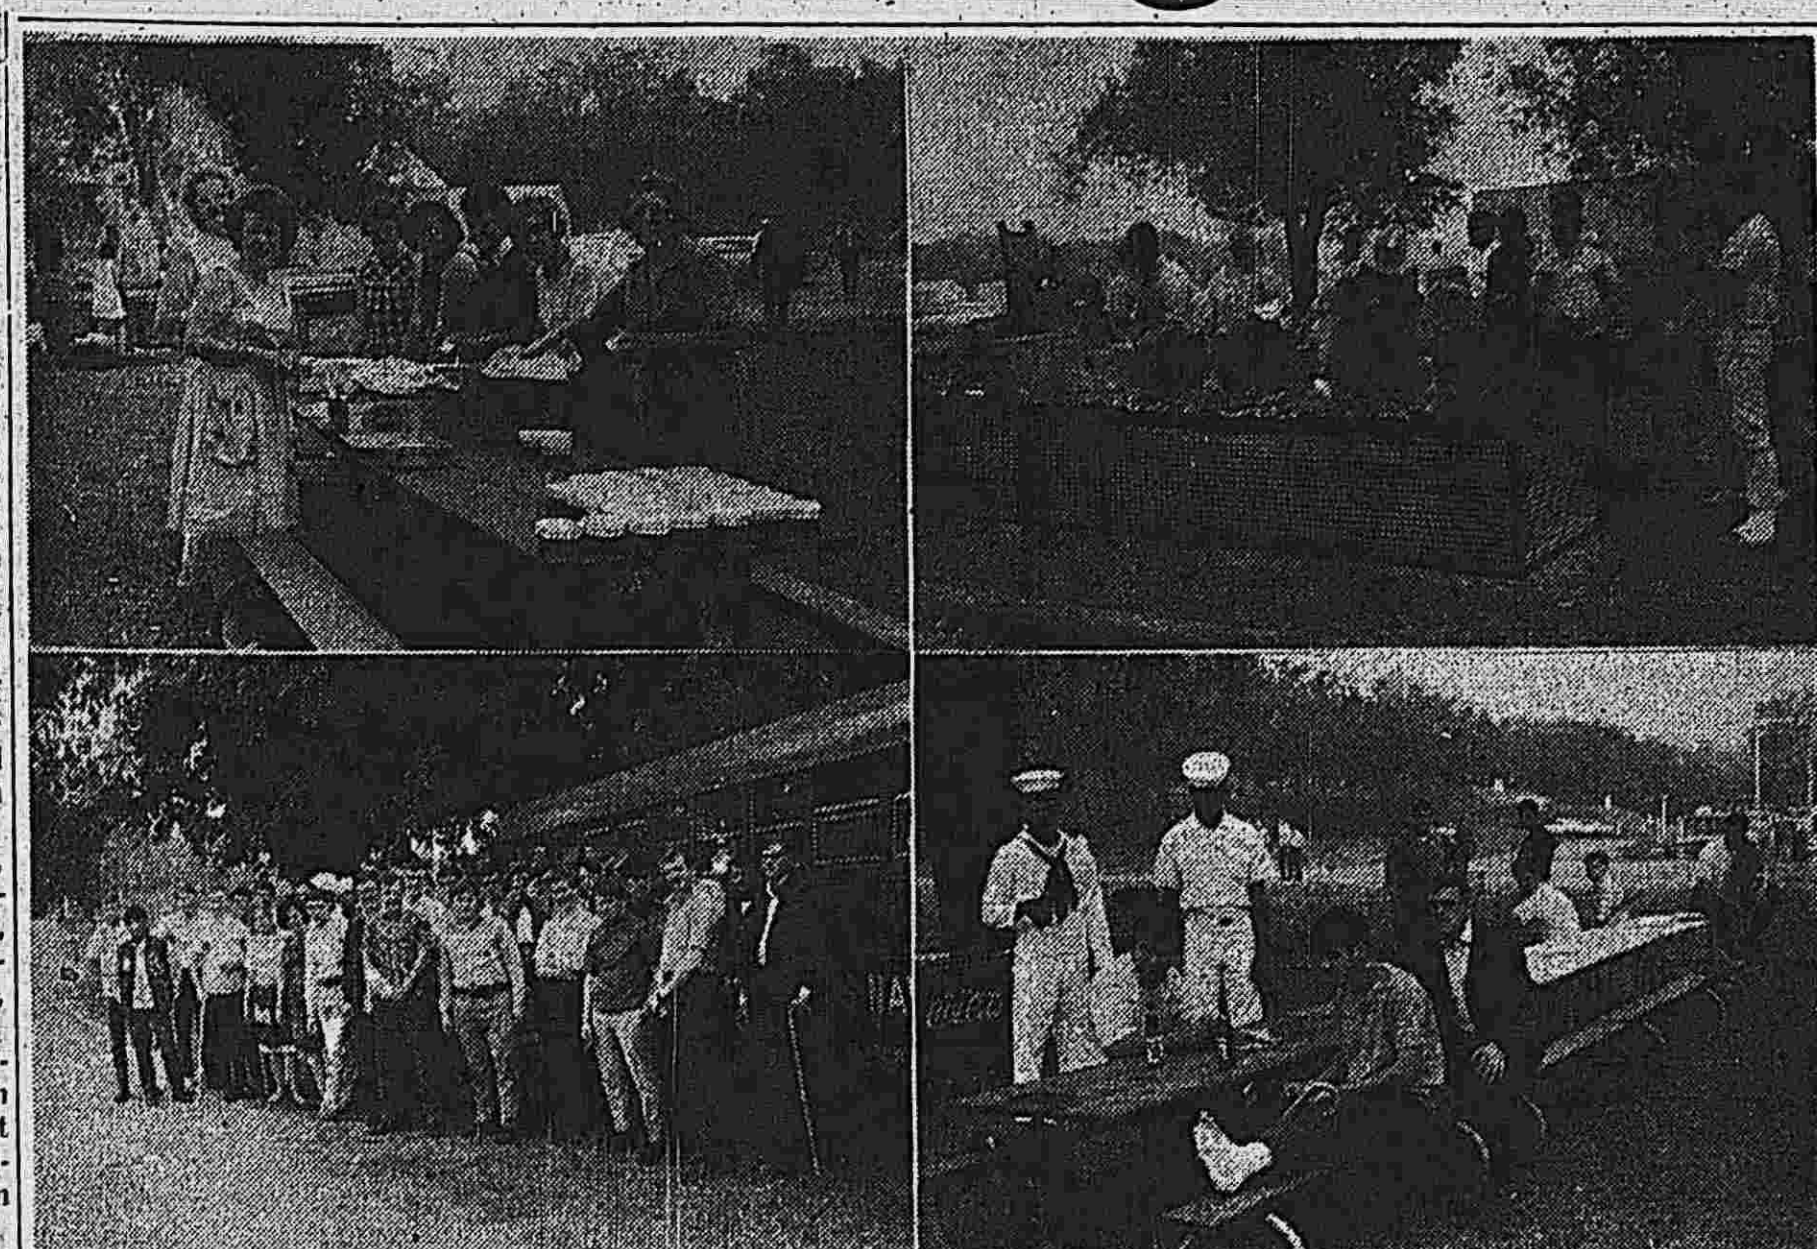

Illinois' first income tax takes effect August 1. Individuals will pay 2 1/2 per cent of their adjusted gross income as shown on their Federal tax return, with an exemption of $1,000.

During the first year of the income tax's operation, one-twelfth of the revenue it produces will be distributed to cities and counties on a population basis.

Senate Assistant Majority Leader Robert Coulson of Waukegan says if you use a formula of $6.00 per person multiplied by the number of residents in a municipality the figure would be fairly close to the actual return. Since no census figures for the number of residents living in the unincorporated areas of Lake County are available, except from the last official population count in 1960, it is difficult to know exactly how much the income tax return will mean to county government.

However, if projection figures from the regional planning commission for 1970 are used, the county stands to receive $800,000 from the income tax based upon a population of 133,400.

Some 45 veterans were entertained last week at The Arbor Resort by the Women's Auxiliary of the Antioch Township Republican Club assisted by the Rainbow Girls. The resort owners donated their grounds and the use of a pontoon boat and Edith Andreas donated the use of her "Floating Veranda" and gave the boys rides all afternoon. Tony and Lill's Pizza Parlor donated 17 king-size pizzas, and many cakes were donated and the boys dined on barbeque beef. Many of the areas young ladies came out in the evening and danced with the veterans to the music of The Small Print, a band from Indiana.

Nuisance Ordinance Adopted

A nuisance ordinance covering abandoned vehicles and farm animals was passed by the Lake County Board of Supervisors at the July 8 meeting.

The ordinance states that storage of inoperable and abandoned vehicles, horses and farm animals on small residential lots is a major problem and constitutes a public nuisance rather than a zoning violation. It goes on to

Talent Galore In PM&L Play

Summertime is fun time and PM&L is rehearsing and perfecting the "fun"niest musical comedy ever given on the PM&L stage.

This fast moving, laugh-a-minute zany production, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum", will be presented on July 25, 26, August 1 and 2, at 8:30 p.m. at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main Street, in Antioch.

Theatre goers can take advantage of Season IX ticket saving prices since "Forum" launches PM&L's ninth season.

For information or reservations call 395-0539 or 395-1217.

Individual tickets are also available for other than season members, but early reservations are suggested.

Cast members come from all over the area and represent many different occupations including school teachers, painters, office workers, college and high school students.

Don Beveroth stars in the role of Pseudolus, the slave, played by Zero Mostel on Broadway.

Don has been in or directed or been associated with almost every PM&L production since he joined the group. In "Forum" he creates the most fantastic role ever. Don teaches English at ACHS, and lives at Paddock Lake, Wis.

Ken Smouse comes back to the stage for his first major role since South Pacific and "Once Upon a Mattress" and plays the role of Senex, head of the household, an old man with many young ideas still in his head. He also directs the production. Ken teaches English and heads the drama division of the Fine Arts Department at ACHS.

Betty Vaughn from Lake Villa plays Domina, wife of Senex, and mother of Hero. Betty had experience in high school dramatics, has done much singing in various choirs, has raised eight talented children, and finally decided to break away and become an actress.

John D. Horton from Antioch plays the romantic lead of Hero. John is now a Standard Oil trainee, just started in PM&L's Mary, Mary, and was seen many times on stage at ACHS both in concerts and musicals and in South Pacific and The Music Man for PM&L.

Kris Ann Fournier from Lake Villa plays the lovely Philia, bought by Miles Gloriosus, the warrior, but loved, wooed and finally won by Hero. Kris will be a sophomore at Northern Illinois University majoring in English and music.

Kris currently reigns as Miss Cinderella U.S.A. having won the title in Boston over some 300 other contestants. Kris was very active in music and drama at ACHS and played in Little Mary Sunshine for PM&L.

Bill Sershon from Antioch plays Hysterium, slave to Senex and Domina, who is more often than not in a hysterical situation. Bill

Vote Yes July 26

Once again the Emmons Grade School District voters will go to the polls to pass on an increase in the educational tax rate by 21-cents.

The last vote ended in a 66 to 66 tie and sent the proposal down to defeat.

We have advocated that the voters give the increase to the district to save it from ruin and keep it operating as a separate entity.

We still believe that this will be the best approach to the situation, particularly in view of the hike in the state school aid by the legislature.

The board is seeking the approval of the voters to boost the rate to $1.45 per $100 assessed valuation.

Education these days comes high.

But it is worth it.

We urge a favorable vote for the referendum on July 26.

A New Approach

There is a new group organized called the National Committee on Tax Justice which we find very appealing.

Its main theme is for federal income tax reform—a long needed measure in our opinion—and has a five point program.

The group claims that its program will provide equity to the taxpayers, relieve the tax burden on low and middle income families and provide new funds for the government.

The five points it advocates include:

- Eliminate preferential treatment of all capital gains.
- Eliminate special deductions for depletion of oil and other minerals beyond the cost of the mineral property and for the expensing of exploration and development costs.
- Provide federal assistance to state, and local bond issues instead of allowing a tax exemption on their interest.
- Withhold taxes on interest and dividends at the source.
- Provide tax relief for low and middle income families by providing a minimum standard deduction of $1,100 for all families.

We have long deplored the fact that there is only a $600 deduction for each member of the family.

If the government would try to live on such a stipend it would starve to death in no time.

We don't know if the National Committee on Tax Justice has the right answers.

But we kind of like its approach to the situation.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

Problems relating to nuclear armaments are coming under closer scrutiny by Members of the United States Congress. A nuclear weapon far more controversial than the ABM (Anti-Ballistic Missile), as well as more significant in its impact on humanity, is the so-called MIRV. The abbreviation MIRV which stands for "multiple independently targetable re-entry vehicles" describes a nuclear weapon with multiple warheads capable of striking from three to ten widely separated targets when launched into space by a single ballistic missile.

Both the Soviet Union and the United States have conducted extensive research on this type of weapon, and the military elements of both countries are expected to conduct flight tests of such weapons in the near future. This testing and subsequent deployment of MIRV weapons is regarded by many as an irreversible step in the arms race which can lead only to more frightening and destructive weapons which threaten the annihilation of mankind.

It is to avoid this horrendous threat that a significant number of Members of the House and Senate have introduced resolutions urging the President to initiate a moratorium on the flight testing of MIRV weapons, which our nation would observe as long as the Soviet Union respected a similar moratorium.

The House Resolution sponsored by Republican Congressman John Anderson of Illinois and Democratic Congressman Jeffery Cohelan of California, and dozens of other members from both parties, purports to express the sense of Congress that the United States and the Soviet Union should postpone flight testing of MIRV weapons pending a full agreement for suspending the deployment of such strategic weapons subject to national verification or such methods of inspection as may be agreed upon.

It is believed existing satellite surveillance permits an accurate monitoring of an enemy's nuclear weapon so long as only one nuclear warhead is housed in a single missile silo. However, with the advent of MIRV and the housing of multiple warheads in a single silo, surveillance is rendered impossible without on-site inspection. Consequently, the deployment of MIRV weapons is

This is an open letter to our Village Board, to be printed in full; not to be condensed nor misconstructed as was a letter to the board appearing in capsule form in last week's paper. It was made to appear as a crank letter from an "irate citizen."

For the past 40 and some odd years, we have had a "lake" on Parkway Ave.—a double drive. This "lake" appears two and three times during the summer after hard rains. It extends across both drives and seventy or more feet up both roads. The ground has never been built up and the roads are not level with the grade. Why do we have this condition? There are no "catch basins" to drain off the water. The sewer backs up and we have regarded as a dangerous escalation of the arms race.

Some would favor a unilateral moratorium on MIRV testing in the hope that this would persuade the Soviet Union to adopt similar restraint. The far larger group headed by Congressmen Anderson and Cohelan, would rely on a joint agreement between the United States and the USSR. It is felt that such an agreement to suspend MIRV testing would improve the chances of eliminating MIRV deployment and might result ultimately in a permanent limitation, and even reduction, in strategic nuclear weapons.

The present MIRV controversy is far more complex and far-reaching than the ABM (Anti-Ballistic Missile) dispute. The ABM involves a purely defensive nuclear component many of which have already been deployed by the Soviet Union. Indeed, the limited "Safeguard" ABM is designed primarily to protect our deterrent retaliatory weapons and is without special significance as a weapon of destruction. Its mission is to defend—not attack.

Representative Craig Hosmer of California is one of a large number of Congressmen who caution against any type of moratorium on MIRV testing. He declares that both the United States and the USSR have already tested MIRV weapons, establishing their efficacy to strike multiple targets at great distances from each other. Also, he points out that the Soviet Union will never permit on-site inspection of its missile silos without which any moratorium or other agreement with the Soviet Union would be worthless.

The President, the Members of the Congress, and the vast majority of the American people would welcome a meaningful arms control agreement with the Soviet Union, Red China, and other potential nuclear powers. That is the principal mission of the U. S. Delegates to the Disarmament Arms Control Commission which has been meeting for many years in Geneva, Switzerland. The failure to reach an accord cannot be attributed to our nation's negotiators. There is a strong temptation to turn to some unilateral action in the hope that this will induce the USSR and other nations to respond similarly. Unfortunately, there is little historical or other justification for any such unilateral action, a step which would leave the Soviet Union and Red China free to test and deploy MIRV and other nuclear weapons any time it suited their individual interests.

a nasty, slimy mess. This is the thing that happened on June 29th and has happened before. At one time, before this subdivision was built up, my folks had two or three feet of stench water in their basement. A nice mess to live with year after year.

I realize this is an antiquated sewer system but I feel the board has turned their backs on the great need for "catch basins" and improvements all over this town.

This "irate citizen," as our Mayor put it, told the board he would not buy a vehicle sticker unless something was done about conditions on Parkway. His words were twisted to make it sound like just high water and not a sewer condition. I can add to this complaint. First, this town has an ordinance requiring vacant lots to be mowed of high weeds and thistles. We have two vacant lots on Parkway that are never mowed during the growing season. It is a bed for mosquitoes and is a source of irritation for hay-fever victims of which my daughter is one. Why isn't this landowner ever compelled to mow his property? Second, we are at the stub end of the water system. The hydrants are never opened to drain off the rust and corrosion only when we housewives here complain. Sometimes the water is so rusty and has such a foul smell, we have to drain gallons of it before it becomes fit to drink or be used for the laundry and yet we have to pay for it.

I've known most of the men on the board all my life but in my opinion there are only three who use their heads. After experiencing these sewage and afore-said conditions for over 10 years as a homeowner, I, as a housewife, mother and citizen, have had it.

This is the first time I have ever become angry enough to speak my mind publicly but when a letter is twisted to make it appear to the board's advantage, Mr. Mayor, and the conditions are such as they are, then I rebel.

You made the comment, Mr. Mayor, that you hoped there were not other people that felt the same way as this "irate citizen" about high water. Let me set you straight. There are plenty of others that feel the same way about conditions such as have been mentioned but they are afraid to voice their grievances for fear of "stepping on someone's toes", and because they know their grievances will be ignored completely.

The "irate citizen's" wife, Bernice Clark all you apartment hunters. Please, investigate before you rent! My husband and myself have moved 5 times since we've been married (less than 2 years) and everytime we moved, we "learned through experience".

The first apartment we had was in Chicago where we stayed for about 8 months. We didn't sign a lease which we thought was smart. We almost froze to death that winter from the lack of heat, complaining didn't do any good. The landlord was always popping in unexpectedly when we were home, and when we weren't home! On top of that, she was constantly telling me how I should clean, cook, etc.

Well, we finally moved out of that place into a nicer apartment in Fox Lake. This apartment was O.K., but when we moved in, we didn't realize that the 43 steps, each one being about 3 feet long, would be so much trouble. Every time we went up or down the stairs for any reason, it was like a major expedition. Winter was coming soon and we just couldn't picture ourselves slipping and sliding up, and mostly down, those 43 steps.

Around December we found what we thought to be a very nice house on Grass Lake Road near Antioch, owned by a man who my husband had known for most of his life. We thought this would make a difference, but of course, we were wrong again! This guy was really out to make a buck! After we moved in he started taking people on tours of the house (some of them unscheduled) since he was trying to sell the house, which he forgot to mention to us! Besides this invasion of our privacy, we could use only three of the five rooms because the space heater that was in the house, would heat only 3 rooms, and those were so cold that you couldn't walk on the floors in bare feet! We were paying $100 in rent, plus $30 to $40 every two months for gas, and $20 to $30 every two months for electric.

This seemed like a heck of a lot of money for only 3 rooms so we told him that we were going to start looking for another place, this was about 2 months before we actually moved.

Well, we finally found an ideal place in Lake Villa (where we are very happily living now, with a lease, a fantastic apartment, and a fantastic landlord), after notifying our landlord from Grass Lake a month before that we were definitely moving in a month. He said that that was too bad, but that he would pay us our security deposit ($75) back as soon as someone else had moved in. Well, by rights, he should have paid us when we moved out, but we figured that we would give him a break. That was a break for him all right! When my husband found out that someone had moved into the house, he went over to their house to collect the money. When he got there he was told, "I'm only giving you $25 of the $75, because that's all you're entitled to".

There's no way to get the money back now, not unless we want to spend about $100 or more to get back $50!

So, this is a warning to you people in search of apartments out there: (1) check everything out before you move in, like water, heat, if you can hear through the walls, and if everything works; (2) if you sign a lease, which is almost a must, read it over carefully, and if it's hard to understand, which most of them are, get a lawyer to help; (3) don't get the first apartment you find, look around!

I hope that through our mistakes that other people won't fall into the same traps that we did and that you people out there won't have as much trouble as

Her headpiece was a bow of white organza with an imported illusion bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of daisies accented by other bridal flowers.

The maid of honor was Carol Silianoff of Antioch, accompanied by three bridesmaids, Renee May of Venetian Village, Sandy Mitchell of Lindenhurst, and Kathleen Zajac, the groom's cousin, of Chicago. They wore floor length modified A-line skirt gowns of dandelion yellow and white linen, fashioned with an oval neckline. Their headpieces were matching yellow bows with butterfly veils. They carried natural weave French baskets of daisies.

The subject of the sermon is "Life" and will be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The public is welcome. "Jesus could give his temporal life into his enemies' hands; but when his earth-mission was accomplished, his spiritual life, indestructible and eternal, was found forever the same." This correlative passage, from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is also part of the sermon.

Nuisance Ordinance

(Continued from page one) say these conditions are detrimental to safety, health and public welfare and adversely affect the conservation of property values.

Upon notification by authorities private property owners will have 48 hours in which to clear up the violation or be issued a non-traffic complaint ticket. Conviction of violation carries a fine from $5.00 to $100.00.

The director of building and zoning, representatives of the health department and sheriff's office have been designated enforcing officers.

An ordinance of this type was anticipated after it was made known recently that it costs the County approximately $500.00 a month to remove abandoned cars, and about $20,000 per year to clean up junk and debris from along county highways. However, the new ordinance goes further in scope to include owners of private property.

A SIGNIFICANT SURVEY

A highly significant survey concerning public use of private lands has just been released by the American Forest Institute. It covers 65.7 million acres of land of which 57.8 million acres—or 88.2 per cent of all the industry lands in the United States—are owned by the 234 companies that participated in the survey.

Here are the facts: 61.4 million acres of private lands included in the survey are open to hunters in season. Hunters may enter nearly 50 million acres of this vast area without even a company permit or fee. Small fees are charged on only 2 million acres. More than 86,000 miles of company roads are open free to the public as are 14,000 miles of hiking trails. Many companies operate parks with complete facilities for camping, picnicking, boating, swimming, etc. Expenditures of the forest industry on recreation are over $7 million annually.

Another significant aspect of the survey is the apparent lack of public appreciation of outdoor recreational opportunities. It shows that estimated losses to the timber industry from vandalism total $436,000 each year. This vandalism includes destruction of signs, garbage dumping, theft of company property and damage to company equipment. The great tragedy of modern conservation efforts, which mean utilization of resources for both economic and recreational requirements, is that they are not understood by the public. The timber industry is among those working hard to correct this misunderstanding.

IS IT POSSIBLE?

"In case you missed it, syndicated columnist Evans and Novak reported that when . . . militants at Cornell demanded $2,000 to buy bongos drums to celebrate the first anniversary of Martin Luther King's death, Cornell President James Perkins raised $1,700 and also provided them with free transportation to New York City in the University airplane."—Nogales, Ariz. Herald.

County Board Action

Thirteen zoning matters were considered by the Lake County

Board of Supervisors at its regular monthly meeting July 9. Four petitions were denied, five were approved, and four others referred back to the Zoning Board for further action.

Among the rezoning petitions held over was one by Consolidated Freightways to construct a truck terminal along Route 120 in Warren Township. Legal objections have been filed by residents of the area who are apposed to the change. Further, the change now being sought, from light industry to commercial service, is not what appeared in the published notification of the original public hearing and therefore a legal question arises as to the necessity of another hearing before the matter can be brought

Where The Boys Are

Hospitalman Apprentice Donald J. Decker, USN, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Sobey of Rte. 3, Antioch, was graduated from the 14-week basic Hospital Corps School, Great Lakes, Ill.

The school is located at the Naval Training Center and is designed to train both men and women of the Navy and Coast Guard. Taught by Navy nurses and senior hospital corpsmen, the curriculum covered instruction in patient care, the study of anatomy and physiology, minor surgery, the nature and prevention of communicable diseases, and the administering of medicines.

In addition to attending classes he worked with doctors and nurses at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital where he put to practical use the knowledge gained in the classroom.

before the County Board for final action.

The delinquent tax department reported a total of $77,801 collected during the month of June in personal property taxes. Of that $33,087 was collected after law suits had been filed.

In the 11 months since August, 1968, more than one-half million dollars in delinquent personal property taxes has been collected.

Approval was given to a resolution from the finance committee which allows the County Auditor to make payment in certain specific instances of invoices over $1,000 without prior approval of the Board. Auditor John Darrow explained that present procedures will not change in so far as the regular processing of bills. However, on items which can not be bid, such as public utilities, publication of tax rolls, election supplies, postage, and insurance premiums on current contracts, the bills could be paid prior to the item reaching the Board on a regular agenda.

Also passed was a resolution providing for approval of plans and specifications for the Northwest Area Project.

Grant Township Supervisor Harry Robin explained this is not authorization to go ahead with the project, but solely to meet requirements in order to seek reimbursement for engineering plans.

Supervisors gave their o.k. to a resolution to execute an agreement between the Public Works Department, and the First National Bank of Evanston to own, operate and maintain a sewage treatment plant at the Holiday Inn under construction at Route 132 and the Illinois Tollway. Under terms of the agreement the County is not obligated for any expenditure of funds but reserves rights of control.

Plans and specifications for the treatment plant to serve the new motel have been approved by the State Sanitary Water Board.

Metropolitan Alarm Service Company was given permission to install a fire and burglar alarm console and associated equipment at the county radio station at no cost to the county.

The alarm system will be available to institutions, businesses and industry on a subscription basis through the company.

Installation will provide a much needed, and currently non-existent, service in the unincorporated areas.

Motorola Corporation was the low bidder on a total of $1,2675 worth of new radio equipment for the sheriff's department.

MISS DEB

... answers questions about Junior Miss etiquette, grooming and interests.

Q. When you become 13, people begin saying, "Now you're old enough to . . ." Mom's latest dictum is that now I'm old enough to take over spring cleaning my room — including window washing and bedspread cleaning. Sounds like a real drag — have any shortcuts?

A. Springtime and growing up have advantages — but spring cleaning isn't one of them! Here are some time-savers. Window-washing is shortened and simplified with the use of new Kleen-Ups window washers. These specially treated papers have their own great window cleaner that comes to life when the paper is wetted. Then just wipe the paper over the window, dry with paper towels. Incidentally, Kleen-Ups are great for mirrors too! If your bedspread must be hand-laundered, simply soak it overnight in the bathtub. In the morning, rinse and hang it out to dry. You have time to spare to whip up a new spring frock — now that you're old enough!

Q. Miss, Miss, Miss — I'm mystified! What's the real spring forecast? I don't want high hemlines if we're about to be stormed by the maxi!

A. The spring forecast seems to be gangly gams and the long-skirted, high-necked, ladylike look — in other words a mix of mod and Bonnie-and-Clyde and whatever else strikes your fancy! Hemline length is ladies' choice — and what a relief! If your last year's dresses are a mile less than mini — and you like them that way, you don't have to spend the summer shortening skirts.

Q. Dad says no more Father's Day gifts, I think because I've given him a tie every Father's Day (and Christmas and birthday) for the past four years. Now I'm fit to be tied! Any original ideas?

A. What about a Father's Day Feast? A yummy brunch with eggs and rolls, and fruits and sausages, cold cuts and champagne. A plan-it and fix-it-yourself brunch will delight the whole family. Use a summer-bright color scheme and compliment it by using Kleenex paper napkins in the new deep colors — avocado green, antique-gold, or Persian blue. Any father would love a tailor-made Father's Day Feast!

THE DECISION MAKERS

Once again the power of the free market has been demonstrated. A major automobile company has discontinued production of what was, a few years ago, a popular, sporty car. Thus, critics of the free market who claim that promotion and advertising by large firms can force unwanted products onto the public have once more been confounded by the real life marketplace. It happens every day and is far from a rarity in the automobile industry.

As the Wall Street Journal comments, "It's always a little sad to see a car nameplate disappear: some 3,000 have vanished during the industry's history. It's rather comforting, nonetheless, to be reminded once more that in U.S. markets it's still the consumer who makes the big decisions."

EARLY RETIREMENT

"It baffles us why some able-bodied capable people start making plans for retirement about the time they've gained adequate proficiency in their vocation or profession. . . . Aside from work's value to the individual, the country needs the abilities, energies and wisdom of the retirees. They've gained knowledge that comes only through experience. It needs to be shared. They've learned tolerance and understanding through the years; the world's crying for it."—Oenont Ala, Democrat.

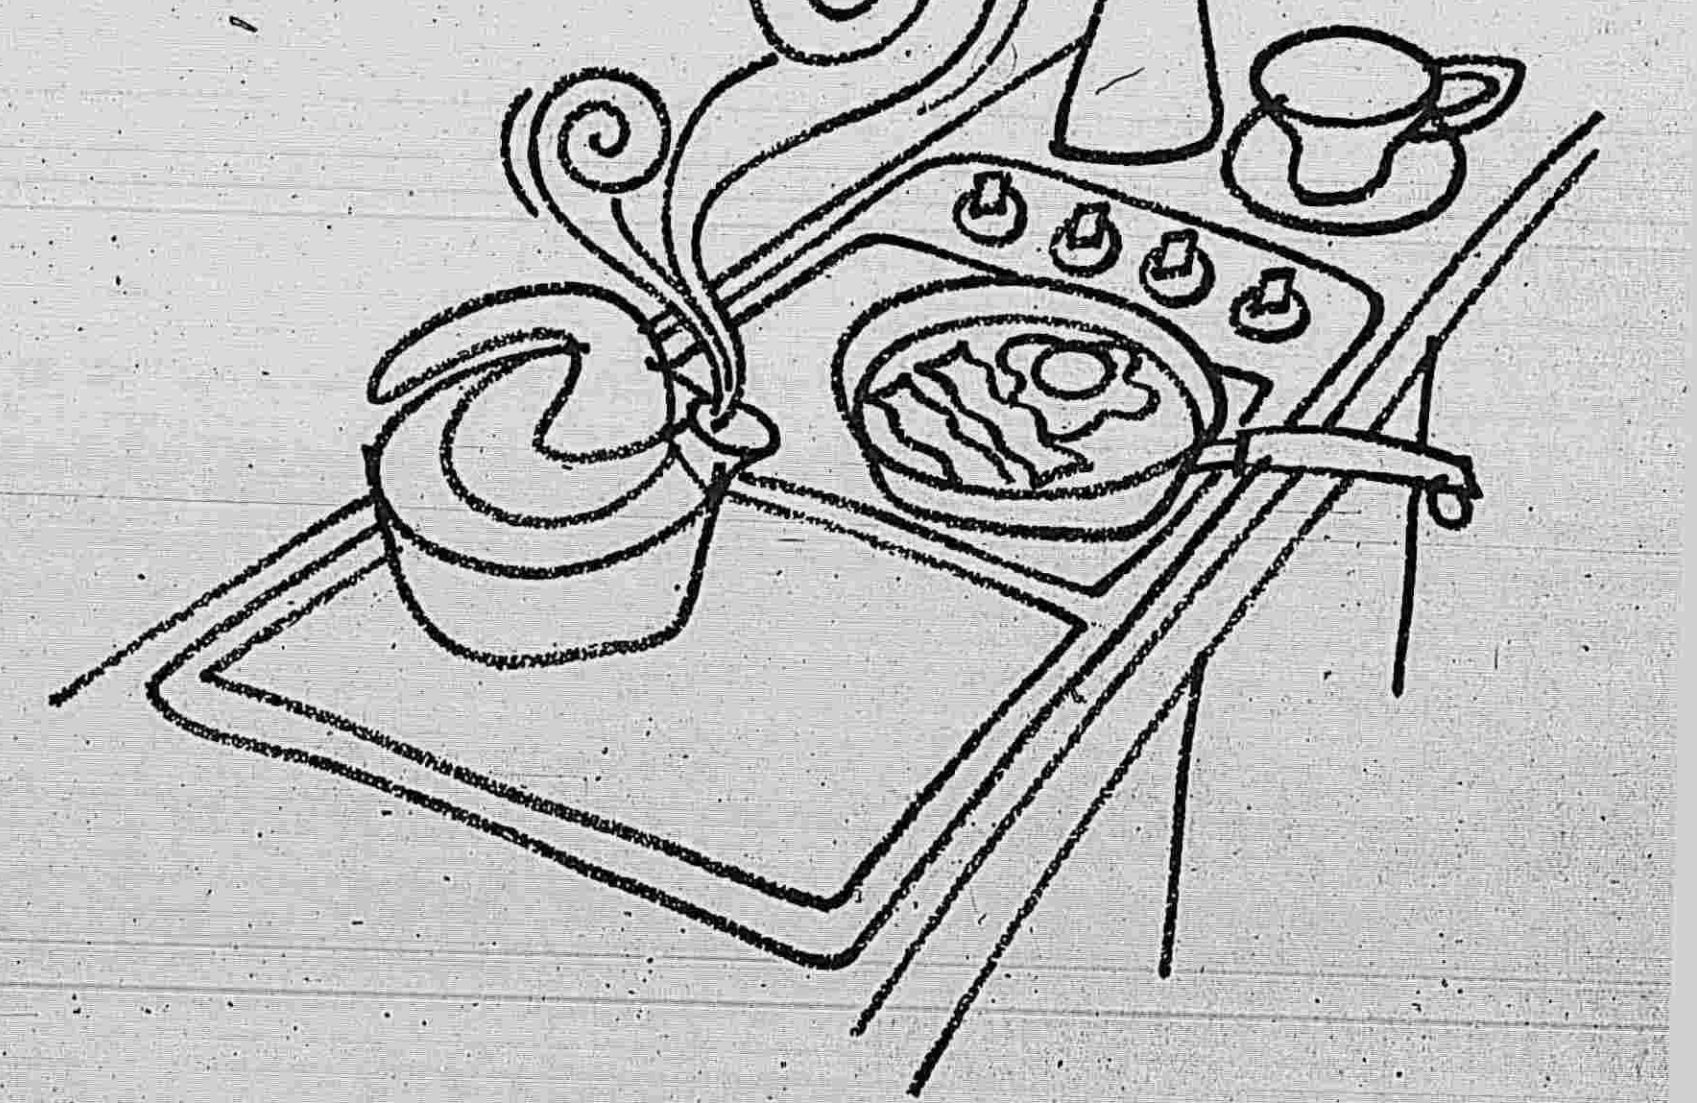

What's new, coffee cup? A kitchen counter that cooks. Electrically, of course.

On the level. A sleek stretch of tempered ceramic is the newest electric range. Only its temperature dials give it away.

It looks like a counter, but it cooks like a range. So where is the heat? Under the tempered ceramic surface. That's its marvelous advantage. Comes clean-up time, all it takes is once-overlightly with a sponge.

First the oven that cleans itself. Now, a counter that cooks, and keeps cleaning simple. Where do these great ideas come from? Where else?

Championship Race to Roper

Waukegan Speedway, July 12—Bob Roper won his third consecutive feature at the Waukegan Speedway Sunday night. He beat Ray Young of Chicago to the checkered flag by one car-length in 30 laps. Roper also won the 100 lap race Saturday night, but by only 2 feet over Young.

Roper took the lead from Young with just four laps to go and held off a stiff challenge by Young in all four of those final laps. Jim Cossman of Waukegan charged up on the leaders at the close of the race to finish only four car-lengths behind Young for third money.

Roper, with his weekend's winnings, has moved from fifth to second place among the point leaders. Next Saturday and Sunday promise to be a real show-down between these two drivers.

Paul Heltz of Arlington Heights took the lead at the green flag but Rich Sundling of Chicago took over one lap later. Three restarts were required around the tenth lap for a series of accidents. Mike Wolff of Lake Villa held second spot from the second lap until the 13th when Young, Roper and Cossman all moved by.

Young worked by Sundling at the half-way mark and three laps later both Roper and Cossman moved past Sundling. The next ten laps were hectic as first Roper closed in on Young and then the two ran bumper to bumper for a number of laps. Young slid high in the 27th lap and Roper was quick to shoot inside and in to the lead.

Ray Freeman of Crete turned in fast time with a 14.75 lap which was .10 seconds better than Roper's time. Freeman took third in his heat race, but spun out of feature contention in the ninth lap.

Th ladies were well rewarded with not only fast, close racing in the supers but with added delight when Gwen Schill of Franksville beat her husband Al in a special match race. Dave Bliss started off in the lead in the feature but an early tangle in the number one turn made a restart necessary when Paul Cameron, Whitey Harris, Roger Otto, Reimer and Tom Anderson all got together up against the wall. After the restart, Danny McKay of Elgin took over with Ron Bergsma getting second. Reimer finally found that express route to the front and won going away.

Earlier in the Trophy Dash, Anderson's spin-out to Reimer and Al Schill with repairs necessary before feature race time. Roger Otto won the balance of the dash over Billy Boeden.

Al Schill took Denny McKay's "Little Hooker" modified and gave his wife a straightaway lead in their match race but was never able to close the gap. Gwen won the trophy and Al will have to live up to their bet all this week by washing the dishes in the Schill household. Gwen is now the only woman to ever race a modified on both dirt and asphalt.

The Roadrunner stocks, Lyn Fry of Rockford won the feature. Les Koerner, "King Tinkie" from Harvard, made a complete flip in the heat race while in the lead. He was upside down as he crossed the start-finish line.

Fans had an indication of what was to come as Young took the lead in the trophy dash only to be passed by Roper in the closing laps. Roper also won a heat race, but Young spun out on contention in that one.

Chuck Clark of Waukegan won both a heat race and the main event in hobby stock action. So many hobby cars entered Saturday that a bonus heat race was run. Defending champion Bob Klemm, who won the last two features, was eliminated in a heat race crash in which he climbed the concrete wall in front of the grandstand.

Rain Halts Races At Lake Geneva

Lake Geneva, Wis.—For the second straight Sunday night rain prevented modified stock car racing at the Lake Geneva Raceway July 6th.

Last Sunday night the modified stock cars did get in time trials and one heat race but this time afternoon rains and lack of sunshine or better prospects, brought out the cancellation prior to race at 8:30 p.m.

Joe Garbucky on Ray's Shell team had a 12 on the 7th hole, so did Arnold Palmer at Pebble Beach. Of course Arnold didn't have a rain filled fairway, tall grass and mosquitoes that our Joe stroked thru.

Cliff Burdette of Sturtevant winning the main event for that division in thrilling fashion. Burdette took the lead from Harold Grimes of McHenry at the half-way mark. In the final lap both these cars struck a stalled car on the track and then recovered to finish nearly side-by-side. Bob Klemm of Geneva finished third. There will be three nights of racing this coming weekend at the Waukegan Speedway. On Friday night the U.A.R.A. midgets can be seen in their fourth appearance. Saturday and Sunday night will feature the late model super stocks.

Stop and Go To Bill Bohn At Wilmot

Bill Bohn of Kenosha won the modified stock car race at Wilmot Saturday night, which took three different starts to come to the finish. Even after the finish, there was discussion which caused the normally 30 lap feature race to be declared official at the 29th lap.

Weather, that has been a problem around most tracks this season, was to blame for the restarts and resulting problems. An electrical storm knocked out the lights in the first turn on the previous night and the quick change in weather on Saturday afternoon, left the track very wet and slow. When trouble happened in the first turn, it was necessary to bring out the red flag because of the limited light in this corner.

The 29th lap was actually run as the red flag came out, therefore the official finish was set back to the 29th lap. None of the first three positions was changed. Roger Otto wound up second, followed by George Fisher, Ron Bergsma, Al Schill and Chuck Acheson. Seventh place through tenth were Jr. Dodd, Ken Monroe, Tom Anderson and Paul Cameron.

Ray Faulkner won the semi over Ron Larson and Dick Bentley. Heat winners were Chuck Arnold, Bentley, Bohn and Ken Hanson.

Chuck Chadwick won the Sportsmen's feature, with heat wins going to George Butterfield, Dave Zilmer and Don Fernandez. Nearly 3000 fans enjoyed the action at Wilmot and received the word that next Saturday night's racing action will see a third class of cars in competition. Spectator car racing returns with fans actually supplying the competition. Already entered is a 1969 Dodge Charger.

Bruce Johnson, Whitewater, started off in the lead and stayed there for 21 laps before Anzinger of Antioch came up and applied the pressure that put Johnson in the infield and out of the race. Burgan, Old Mill Creek, then came up and tried to get the lead but his haste caused him to also spin into the infield. Meanwhile in the back Duerst was working his way forward and caught Anzinger for the lead. Heltz, who had won the semi feature race in his 1969 Chevelle, also got around Anzinger and that was the way they wound up at the checkered flag.

Heat races were particularly close with wins going to Wachal, Gil Rein, Burgan and Bob Anzinger. Burgan and Anzinger's wins each came on the last lap only a few feet from the checkered flag.

The spectator stock car races were nearly dominated by Lake Geneva drivers as Kurt Peterson won the feature ahead of Richard Dews of Geneva City and Carl Mathews of Lake Geneva. Peterson set fast time for this group with a clock stopping run of 21.01. Heat race wins went to Bruce Williams, Lake Geneva, Gil Shills, Delavan and Bill Howland, Whitewater.

Moth Heltz and Wachal expressed satisfaction with the Raceways oval amb will return next Friday night.

Babe Ruth All-Stars Lose At Barrington

Antioch went down in defeat Sunday, July 13, at Barrington at the hands of a good defensive team from Dundee.

Errors were the losing factor for Antioch with five in one inning, giving up two runs. Another error in the following inning scored Dundee's third run. Pitching for both teams was excellent with Bud Newton for Antioch giving only four scattered hits and walking only one of the opposition. The only Antioch hits were a double by Jim Revell, a single by Mike Guilloyle, a single by Chip Gross and a pinch hit double by Jim Wirth driving in Antioch's only two runs with bases loaded in the seventh.

Central Hikes Cost Of Hot Lunches

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of Central High School was held on July 8th with all members present. After reading of minutes the treasurer's report was accepted and order was given to pay all bills submitted.

The board heard a report on a survey of hot lunch and book rent charges in schools in southeastern Wisconsin. Because of the rise in food prices it voted to raise the lunch price for the student to 40c a meal from the previous price of 35c and five meal tickets voted at $2.00.

Because of increased textbook charges, book rent for the 1969-70 school year was set at $12.00. The board also voted to subsidize employee physical examination to a maximum of $10.00.

A review of budget cuts which had been held and the final budget was approved for submission to the annual meeting on July 21st.

Reimer, Duerst Speed Winners At Raceways

Lake Geneva, Wis.—Johnny Reimer and Dick Duerst were the fastest qualifiers in the 1969

Tournament of Speed at the Lake Geneva Raceway on Friday, July 4. They each started on the pole and led every lap of the "B" bracket feature for their separate divisions in the first presentation of this new type of racing.

Nearly 2400 fans were attracted to the idea that had both late model and modified stock cars racing by running only with their own group. Car entries however fell a little short of the expected number that the $4000 purse should have attracted. This made a slight change in the events and the fastest group actually participated in a "C" bracket feature starting in inverted order.

Jim Sullivan of Antioch won this race for 20 laps with Roger Otto really putting on the pressure from second place. Sullivan also won the "B" bracket feature for modifieds with Ray Dobbs further off in second place in this one.

Johnny Reimer had no trouble in the "A" bracket modified feature but a fierce battle developed between Jr. Dodd, Otto and Denny McKay who finished in that order.

Ken Garry of Delavan finished second to Dick Duerst in the "A" bracket feature for 40 laps of late model stock car racing with Jerry Eckhard barely saving third over Bob Anzinger and Gil Rein. "B" bracket winner was Ray Bush of Silver Lake who led that 30 lap event throughout. Dennis Krueger of Jefferson won the "C" bracket event for 20 laps.

Potter Triple Winner

Claude Potter of Geneva City, Wis., led the Wisconsin drivers in a complete shutout of Illinois drivers from victory circle as he won three races at Lake Geneva Raceway Sunday night. Potter won the trophy dash, his heat and the feature. Other IRA modified stock car events were won by Ken Monroe, Pell Lake, and Al Schill of Franksville.

Potter started in the sixth row of the feature event and came forward fast taking the lead from Allen Kautz of McHenry. From that point on he was never in trouble for the win although Roger Otto was able to close some of the gap but never really challenged for the lead. The big duel was between Jr. Dodd, Schill and Bergsma with Bergsma finally getting Schill in the traffic action.

In Spectator stock action, Carl Mathews won the feature ahead of Robert Dews, Gil Shills, John Fishbach and Phil Bjerning.

Heats were won by Carl Mathews, Doug Albert and Dews.

Go-Karts raced two special introductory heats with John Hall of Lake Geneva winning both heats. Karts may continue to appear to determine fan interest for the buzz bombs. About ten Karts were on hand, but more are expected for the next time if they are scheduled.

4-H Farm Projects Upsurge Reported

A record enrollment of 968,000 boys and girls in the national 4-H Agricultural program was reported for 1968, according to figures supplied by the Cooperative Extension Service in 50 states and Puerto Rico. This is an increase of nearly 19,000 over the previous year.

The popular program covers a broad area of agriculture. Crops, livestock, poultry, management, marketing, experimental and research project attract young farmers from every section of the United States.

Since not all farm youths will remain on the farm, the 4-H agricultural program is an important training ground for future careers, says a 4-H spokesman. Agri-business today employs about 40 per cent of the working population.

The 4-H Agricultural program has been sponsored for 15 years by International Harvester, a pioneer 4-H backer. Incentive awards are provided on an annual basis. Harvester also will be host to 1969 state and national award winners who attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. In addition it hosts a spectacular luncheon for the entire Congress delegation of some 2,000 persons.

Scholarships of $600 each will be presented to six national winners during the Congress. All state winners will receive an expense-paid trip to Chicago for the week-long event starting right after Thanksgiving.

Results of increased participation in the program is also reflected in the number of county medal winners last year. Nearly 6,000 young farmers claimed a medal.

CRIME IN WASHINGTON

"If crime cannot be brought under control in Washington, D. C., there is little reason to think it can be anywhere else in the United States. Entirely justifiable is the idea that the city which is the seat of our federal government should provide the model for the nation's cities in adequately coping with and as nearly as possible eliminating crime. After all, it is the agency responsible for law enforcement in Washington." — Warrensburg, Mo., Star-Journal.

County Has New Speaker's Bureau

Club and organization chairmen will be happy to learn of a new speaker's bureau, established to cover all phases of county government. Lake County elected officials and department heads are included in the listings, involving all functions and activities of the county government structure.

A recently produced color slide and sound presentation, "Our County," gives an overview of operations on a day-to-day basis. An official will be in attendance to answer questions following the presentation. If a club wishes a talk on a specific aspect of county government that, too, can be provided.

All requests for speakers should be made through the information office, 689-8355. Bookings should be arranged as far in advance of the meeting date as possible.

Guard, Navy Militia Must Buy Plates

Springfield, Ill., July 8—Members of the Illinois National Guard and Naval Militia who purchase cars between now and December 1 will have to pay the same half-year license fees as persons who are not members of either of those organizations, Secretary of State Paul Powell pointed out today.

In future years, they will have to pay the same full annual fees as other vehicle owners, Secretary Powell said.

The recent session of the General Assembly enacted legislation, which was not supported by Mr. Powell, repealing the $2 registration fee previously offered to National Guard and Naval Militia members.

Most legislation changing license fee structures becomes effective at the start of the next licensing period, but this measure became effective July 1 and consequently applies to any purchases between now and Dec. 1. The present fee schedule of $8, $12, $18 and $24 depending upon horsepower remains in effect until Dec. 1, meaning that the fees to be paid during that period would be $4, $6, $9 and $12.

Free Choice In Quality Is Threatened

Inflation is admittedly the major culprit behind high and rising prices. But, another factor is at work that is even more difficult for the average person to comprehend. This is the pressure for standardization buttressed by massive regulation being exerted in the marketplace in the guise of consumer protection.

A principal feature of the free market is the compulsive drive of competition to give people what they want in quality, quantity and price. In its drive to force consumer choice into conformity with rigid concepts of regulation, the protectionism movement is steadily narrowing the range of available products. The day may come when there will be nothing but standard, high-priced items for consumers to buy. The freedom of choice in quality will have been eliminated along with variety in sizes and packages.

The day may well come when the man who wishes to buy a transistor radio, for example, will be confronted with a choiceless decision. All such radios may be standardized with a service life of 25 years, whereas the prospective customer might have desired to purchase—at a more modest price—a radio of lesser quality that might expire in three or four years. Consumer protectionism has made his choice for him. He has but to decide whether to buy or not to buy, and so it may be with everything from clothing to soda pop.

This is not the way of the free market and maximum production at minimum prices. It is not the way to sustain the mass distribution system that has produced more of the good things of life for the American people than any other system. The present-day philosophy of consumer protectionism is simply another name for that weary old doctrine, statism.

REPRESSIVE AND ILOGICAL

Needlessly repressive regulation often ends in a wave of indignation and modifying legislative action. Such seems to be the case with federal regulation of firearms and ammunition. As of a recent date, 50 bills to alter or repeal the 1968 gun law have been submitted in Congress. Seven pending bills would repeal the entire 1968 Gun Control Law. The author of one of these, Representative Long of Louisiana, said, "it has been made abundantly clear . . . that the act does not serve to keep dangerous weapons from the hands of criminals and incompetents as its proponents claimed, but rather works unnecessary hardships on the law-abiding and peaceful citizen who has legitimate uses for firearms." Another congressman pointed out that, "The amount of records keeping and regulation required in ammunition sales defies all the rules of logic and surpasses any legitimate need."

Sentiment is growing for stiffer penalties against criminal use of firearms. Governor Reagan of California, who opposes repressive controls, has declared: "We must amend our laws to make it clear that the criminal who arms himself with a gun will be dealt with severely in every case. We must strengthen the penalties for the illegal use of such weapons without interfering with the legitimate use of firearms by law-abiding citizens."

Citizen ownership of firearms is both a right and a tradition in the United States. It symbolizes independence, as well as individual responsibility—inseparable elements of freedom under representative government. Firearm or ammunition regulations that fail to take into account this fundamental truth have no place in the law of the land.

Many of the younger generation have never known the more lasting pleasures of fulfilling their desires and wants through their own initiative. This necessary ingredient of good citizenship has been denied them by selfish parents who want their children to have "everything" except the industry necessary to propel them through life.

Fun with Food

By Mary Reynolds

Let Them Eat . . . Pudding!
Puddings, one of today's most enjoyable desserts, didn't start out that way. Historically, puddings, tasting like porridge, were all-purpose meals for the poor. When Marie Antoinette suggested, "Let them eat cake," they were probably eating pudding. A good cook was known as a "pudding wife," the stomach was called a "pudding house."

He Stuck In His Thumb . . .
Plum pudding first appeared in England in 1675 and began the trend for sweet pudding desserts. Only a few recipes were known until 1866, when Thomas J. Murray wrote "Puddings and Dainty Desserts," which contained 33 varieties.

Fun With Today's Prepared Puddings
Today's "pudding wife," starting with prepared mixes, can cook or stir up more puddings than Thomas J. Murray ever dreamed possible. Pudding mixes can also be used to add rich flavor and texture to pie fillings, cakes, souffles, mousses, frosting, trifles and even floating island desserts.

The whole family can have fun with puddings, choosing favorite flavors such as chocolate nut, butterscotch or mocha. They're smoothies! For a party the home economists at M-T-T Fine suggest alternating slightly cooled layers of continental chocolate and vanilla pudding in parfait glasses. Top each dessert with whipped cream and chocolate shavings.

Today prepared puddings are fail-safe, delicious desserts that cunningly help children consume daily milk quotas. Stock a variety of flavors and prepare a different dessert each time by consulting the package panel for new recipe ideas.

BUREAUCRATIC BLUNDER

When the medicare law was passed, a provision of the measure known as Title 19 also became law. Under Title 19, medicare programs to aid the needy were established by the various states in cooperation with the federal government. Whatever its goals, mounting cost, corruption and mismanagement have turned medicare into a classic bureaucratic fumble. Even the most avid political spenders may join in legislation to control medicare before it brings utter chaos to state and federal—as well as private—health agencies.

Among other things, much is heard of the scandals attached to payments of doctors and other fees. It has been estimated that national medicare is being bled of $45.6 million a year by overutilization, kickbacks, sloppy administration and outright fraud. Forty-five million dollars sounds like a lot of money; but compared to the billions that are poured out in medicare, it is but a drop in the bucket. The bigger government gets and the farther afield its activities extend, the less effective it becomes. That is why members of the medical profession have opposed the principle of state medicine, which can lead in but one direction—a deterioration of medical standards and a slowing of medical progress.

In the end, if we are to have adequate medical care for all U. S. citizens, it must come from the skill and talents of medical practitioners who are qualified by training and experience to adapt the medical arts to the needs of the nation. Federal programs should seek to strengthen the traditional U. S. medical system rather than supersede it.

QUALITY FOOD—BARGAIN PRICES

In the summertime, when fruits and vegetables are in season, you'll often find frozen fruits and vegetables offered at bargain prices. Before you buy, however, be sure they are truly bargains.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it's a good idea to buy one package and check its quality before buying in quantity. Use this checklist:

1. Note whether frost has formed inside the package. Large amounts of frost may indicate quality has been impaired.
2. Note the color of the food. Is it normal and bright? Some color changes betray food that has been held too long and at too high temperatures. Avoid peach slices and red cherries that have turned brown; berries that have lost their brightness; snap beans turned olive green; green peas that become grayed green then yellowish.
3. Look for undesirable changes in texture.
4. Check the flavor. And happy eating this summer.
